

THROUGH SERVICE

Between Pittsburgh and Parkersburg Possible this Month.

PAN HANDLE OFFICIALS HERE

YESTERDAY MORNING ON AN INSPECTION TRIP—IT IS INTIMATED THEIR VISIT IS CONNECTED WITH THE PROPOSED THROUGH SERVICE IN CONNECTION WITH THE OHIO RIVER ROAD—THE C. L. & W. ROAD'S GOOD SHOWING LAST MONTH.

There is still some uncertainty regarding the time when the proposed through passenger service between Parkersburg and Pittsburgh on the Pan Handle and Ohio River roads will be put into effect, but it is thought in local railroad circles that it will be provided for in the change in the passenger schedules of the two roads which will be made on the 14th of this month, a week from to-morrow.

A party of Pan Handle officials were in town Thursday night and left for Pittsburgh yesterday morning. They were on an inspection trip, but it is believed their visit had something to do with the combined train service of the two roads between Pittsburgh and Parkersburg. The exclusive announcement of this move, made by the Intelligencer, has been received with satisfaction by the traveling public.

In the party of Pan Handle officials who visited Wheeling were Superintendent G. L. Peck, of the Pittsburgh division; Chief Engineer Thomas H. Johnson, Superintendent of Maintenance of Way W. C. Cushing, and Assistant Train Master E. T. Whiter.

C. L. & W. EARNINGS.

The October earnings of the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling railroad were $171,663, an increase of $70,083 compared with the corresponding month of 1896, a poor month, and an increase of $8,967 over the same period of 1895, which was a record breaker, says the Cleveland Leader.

These figures reflect what the coal carrying roads are doing. General Manager W. R. Woodford stated the October showing was the greatest in the history of the road. The shortage of cars prevented an increase of from $10,000 to $15,000 in addition to the amount mentioned. Mr. Woodford expects the shortage of coal cars to continue until the close of navigation. There is a remarkably heavy movement of finished iron and steel products, even the railroads are surprised at the large shipments. Some of the railroads in this territory have decided not to increase their equipment. They have found, it was stated, that they have all the cars and engines required for over nine months in the year, and do not consider it profitable to purchase equipment which would be idle three-quarters of the time.

Railroad officers agree that the abnormal traffic will continue until February at least, and several officials state that the rush will not end until spring. In all respects the present is a harvest for the transportation lines that were so seriously affected by the late business depression.

MILEAGE BUREAU MEETS.

A call has been issued for a meeting of the mileage bureau of the Central Passenger Association, to be held in Chicago on Tuesday next. The regular meeting of the full association will occur the day following, when a large number of requests for reduced rates will be considered.

ENCOURAGES RAILROADS.

Railways are exempt from taxation for fifteen years in Arizona, provided construction is commenced now. Thirty-one lines have given notice of their intention to begin work. The territory has about 1,400 miles of road and it is nearly twice as large as Kentucky.

MONON COMING IN.

It seems to be understood that the Monon will become a member of the new one thousand mileage book agreement of the Central Passenger Association on November 14. The reasons for going in are that certain concessions have been granted the Monon in the way of train schedules, thus making practical a plan that will save considerable money for all lines interested. On the date named the C. & D. and Monon, Big Four and Pennsylvania systems will change the time of their schedules between Louisville and Chicago and between Chicago and Cincinnati.

COMING TO WEST VIRGINIA.

Supreme Master Workman Tate to Visit A. O. U. W. Lodges Next Month.

Supreme Master Workman Tate, of the A. O. U. W., will spend the early part of December making addresses to different lodges throughout West Virginia. He has a national reputation as a lecturer, and his coming is sure to benefit the order in this state. The arrangements and dates for his reception have been completed.

He will speak in Wheeling December 1, Sistersville, December 2, and every day succeeding until the tenth, he will visit in turn Huntington, Hinton, Charleston, Parkersburg, Mt. Union, Weston and Fairmont. It has been suggested that Mr. Tate lecture in Moundsville in the afternoon before going to Sistersville. Wellsburg, Benwood and Moundsville members could arrange to hear him at Wheeling and it is likely he will be heard in this city by a large assemblage of the Workmen of Wheeling and vicinity.

SCHOOL MELANGE.

The inaugural number of the Athenaeum, published at the West Virginia University, contains all the addresses delivered during that auspicious occasion, and it is surely worth the reading. The addresses of Presidents Andrews and Harper are exhaustive and are full of food for thought, while the inaugural address of President Raymond outlines a policy that will surely, when carried out, place our university right alongside of the very best universities in the land. And why should it not be so? West Virginia boys and girls have just as good brains as the boys and girls of any other state in the Union, and they have the physical power to give these brains a proper development, and why not, then, should they not become, right in our university, just as learned and cultured as in any other institution. They can so become, and in the very near future our university is bound to take a leading place among the great schools of the land. But while this is true, it ought to be remembered that in our primary schools is the place in which to make our university what it ought to be. It is the head of our school system only in the sense that it is here where the crowning work is done, while it is the primary school, or rather the good work done there, that makes the success of the university possible. The teachers in every ungraded school in the state ought to have the power to create in the minds of the boys and girls under their charge a thirst for a higher education, an ambition to be something in the world, and when this is done our university halls will be kept crowded with a class of young ladies and gentlemen of which it need not be ashamed.

We notice that there is a disposition to do away with the primary department of the university. This just now would be a blow struck against it. The writer fails to see, as some do, how a preparatory department lowers the dignity and the standing of a university. Pupils are surely prepared here right under the eyes of the entire faculty, better than they could be anywhere else. There is no necessity for it. If we had enough of intermediate schools, but until that time comes the preparatory department is very necessary and it ought to be kept up.

The high school under the supervision of Principal Work gave its first literary performance yesterday afternoon. It was given by the members of the advanced class. The programme was as follows:

Essays—
"Wheeling: What It Was and What It Is".....Estella Maguire
"Mothers and Daughters".....Mary Richardson
"Wisdom".....Edward Leiger
"Cycles of Time".....Loretta Morgan
Recitations—
"His Mother's Song".....Ora Folke
"Biting Bubbles".....Arla Comer
"Our Folks".....Grace Reich
Original Orations—
"The Power of Habit".....Sue Jones
"The American Character".....Edith Moyle
"Sparta and Athens".....Lida Wells
Extempore Class—
"Why I Go to School".....Martha Johnson
"The Klondike".....Addie Evans
"Death of Henry George".....The School
"Relations Between Spain and the United States".....Ada Smith
"Woods and Fields in Autumn".....Debate—Resolved, That the Study of History and Literature Give a Better Education than the Study of Mathematics and Science.
Affirmative—Gillespie and Laura Crago.
Denial—Dellie Tracy and Bessie McGowan.

The performance throughout was very good.

Dr. Jepson has presented to the high school copies of Butler's School English, Mooney's Latin Grammar, Irish Orthography and Orthography, Brooks' New Mental Arithmetic, Brooks' Normal Rudiments of Arithmetic, Brooks' Plain Geometry, Brooks' Geometry and Trigonometry, Brooks' Normal Standard Arithmetic, Milne's High School Algebra, White's Elements of Geometry, for which he has the thanks of all.

The Longfellow Literary Society of Ritchie school still lives, though the high school took so many of its members. It is now composed of the seventh and eighth year pupils. It is divided into four classes and each performs once every week. Each class seems to vie with the others in trying to give the best performance, and the result is that every Friday afternoon they give a performance worth hearing. Quite a number of visitors attend at nearly every meeting. Too much attention cannot be given to these literary exercises, as they are doing the pupils more good than is any other exercise of the school. But they are not doing as much good as they might do from the fact that the pupils do not prepare themselves as well as they might. The greatest good of these exercises is to teach the pupils how to express what they know in good language and with fluency. Parents ought to co-operate with the teacher in impressing upon their children the great good of such exercises, because it is hard to convince the average boy that "saying a speech" in school can have any direct or even indirect influence on his after life. Parents and teachers must both remember that a boy is a boy and not a man, and allowance must be made for his shortcomings. But although he is a boy, there is always a way to reach his heart, and it must be reached if he is to become the man that he ought to be.

As an addendum to the above it is well that we as teachers ought to remember that we were boys and girls once, the most of us girls, and try to remember just how we felt and did when tried and tempted in our school life. If this was done always, how many a poor boy and girl would escape the punishment they now so often receive.

"THE PEDAGOGUE"

AMUSEMENTS.

An unusual interest in the performances to be given at the Opera House next week by the Thomas D. Van Orten Three Star Comedy Company, is evidenced in many ways, one of the most notable of which is that it is much talked of in hotels and other places where gentlemen congregate. That the company is under the direction of Mr. Van Orten, who presented a Miss Philadelphia here last season, is at least a suggestion that the performances will be satisfactory. The remarkably cheap prices (10, 20 and 30 cents) of admission are in themselves sufficient to cause comment where it is considered that in addition to the acting company, the Miss Philadelphia Ladies' Symphony Orchestra, numbering twelve pieces, will furnish the music. Inez Meurke, who was the Ruth Spring Garden of the Miss Philadelphia Company, Robert Wayne and Ida Russell are the stars which form this trio. The plays which will be presented have never before been given at cheap prices.

MISS BROWN TO-DAY.

"The Strange Adventures of Miss Brown" pleased a large audience at the Grand last night. They laughed hysterically over the ludicrous situations brought about by a young Philadelphian, a female seminary, masquerading as a girl. The piece will be repeated this afternoon, and the engagement will close with to-night's performance.

ABOUT PEOPLE

Strangers in the City and Wheeling Folks Abroad.

J. W. Waldron, of Welch, is a McLure register.

C. C. Coffman, of Mannington, is a guest of the Windsor.

Miss Rosa Boner, of Clarksburg, is registered at the Stamm.

Miss Etta Dunlevy, of Cameron, was visiting friends in the city yesterday.

Contractor B. P. Perkins was a business visitor to Mannington yesterday.

Walter Buckley, the East End ball player, is able to be out after a few weeks' illness.

Michael G. Warner is spending a few days with the Eclipse Club, hunting down the river.

Joseph Kline, of the South Side, leaves to-morrow to accept a position as clerk in a shoe store in Ashtabula, Ohio.

J. M. Collins is home from Washington-Jefferson college for a few days, visiting his parents on Sixteenth street.

James Shaw, of Grandville, W. R. Rine, of Bird, and J. P. Campbell, of Garfield, are West Virginians at the Howell.

Will S. Rising, of the "Miss Brown Company," is visiting numerous friends in the city. He is an old friend of Mr. and Mrs. George K. Wheat and Mr. and Mrs. William Isett. When Miss Katie Wheat was married to Oscar Rammeleberg, he officiated as one of the groomsmen. Notwithstanding the fact that he sprained his knee during the recent engagement of the company in Cincinnati, he has been shaking hands with his old friends, Harry McLure, Sam Harrison, Harry Wheat, C. K. Tracy and ex-Sheriff Franzheim.

Against Autonomy.

KEY WEST, Fla., Nov. 4.—The Cuban population of Key West is making a great demonstration against the acceptance of autonomy from Spain to-night, with a grand torch-light procession and addresses by prominent Cubans at San Carlos Opera House. Strong resolutions were adopted against accepting autonomy. Among the transparencies in the procession, were "Independence or death," and "Down with autonomy." Houses all over the city are decorated and present a gala appearance.

Great Britain's Trade.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Consul General Osborne, at London, has made a report to the state department upon the trade of the United Kingdom in 1896. It shows that the imports were $125,564,730 more than in 1895, and from the United States alone the excess was $98,922,439. The exports show a large increase, being valued at $1,206,737,755, an excess of $70,000,000 over the previous year. The balance in favor of the United States last year was $370,000,000 greater than at any time during the past fifteen years, and probably at any time previous to that period. In the exports to the United States there is no conspicuous increase in the value of any article.

Retires From the Turf.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—Charles D. Fair, son of the late Senator James C. Fair, has announced his retirement from the turf. Mr. Fair has been a liberal patron of racing for several years, but has met with nothing but hard luck. All his horses will be sold.

"There is always a song somewhere, my dear."—James Whitcomb Riley.

The highways and by-ways of Wheeling were entered by music last week. Every sort and condition of citizen had music thrust at him and gladly grasped it. The development of musical taste has quietly progressed until now everybody is awakened by a general clamor for more knowledge of the opera, concert, private soiree, and of the dilettanti, as well as the professional, who create this inspiration to something higher than a life spent in gossip or "no-mind-requiring" pleasures.

All concerts of the past week, Remenyi, Lyric Ladies of Chicago, "Evening of Songs," St. Joseph's Academy and Woman's Club, were exceptionally good, and especially interesting from a study standpoint. Discussion of one especially, determined that a poet's license is permitted the musical artist as well, and that while a Wheeling audience is fully able to discriminate, the prevailing characteristic is kindness of spirit.

Remenyi's appearance in Wheeling, after eighteen years, was interesting for many reasons. He is now writing a work on Japan, the music conditions of which are most unique. The national orchestra is composed of eight young ladies, who are trained from childhood for the profession. They wear a particular style of dress, and their hair is left to fall loose over their shoulders, instead of being bound up in the fashion made known through pictures. These bands are found in all parts of the country.

The Philharmonic Quartet concert on Tuesday evening, will be the only public musical attraction of the coming week. That a large audience will assemble in the Carroll Club auditorium, is taken for granted. The quartet, as well as that of the musicians, it is hoped the weather will be more lenient than last assembly night, when the impression of a splendid programme was marred for many because of that fact. The enjoyment of music, it is conceded, should rise above material things, but it cannot, always. Without any annoyances, an excellent interpretation may be expected, of the following programme:

Haydn.....Quartet, Op. 76, No. 3 (Kaiserquartet)
Allegro.
Poco Adagio Cantabile.
Menuetto.
Finale (Presto).
Intermezzo
(From Quartet, Op. 12.)
Allegretto Cor Moto.
Allegro di Molto.
INTERMISSION.
Boccherini.....Menuet, Cello
Beethoven.....Quartet, Op. 18, No. 6
Allegro Con Brio.
Adagio ma non Troppo.
Scherzo (Allegro)
No. 124
Allegretto Quasi Allegro.

Several musical treats are now "in talk," to come to a consummation in the near future, but not yet to be divulged. The one, however, at which a niece of Mrs. Gibson Lamb, of this city, will be heard as the vocal star, is booked for November 29, and its mention is no longer a secret. Aside from the artistic merit of the young singer, the social prominence of family connections and the enthusiasm of those in charge of the concert already assure a cordial greeting to the stranger, as well as to any from this city who may be called upon to assist.

Musical Wheeling adds its sincerest regret to that of all theatre-goers, at the proposed abandonment of the Wheeling Opera House. Never were things more enjoyed than just in that house, and everything good that can be yet secured this season, to put in it, should be gotten.

On November 15 and 16, the Camilla D'Aurville Opera Company will begin for Musical Wheeling its sad leaving-taking, with "The Magic Kiss." D.

THE WOMAN'S CLUB

Given One of its Enjoyable Every-Other-Friday Matinees—Mrs. Pollock's Paper on the Influence of Music.

The interest which always centers around the concerts given by the Woman's Club manifested itself again yesterday in the turning out of a large audience. The afternoon's music was in the keeping of many of the club's ablest members, and the entertainment proved one of the very best given.

Mrs. Julius Pollock prefaced the musical part of the programme with a splendid paper on "Music in Its Relations to Nature, to Art and to Man." Its working out was instructive and entertaining.

A Beethoven number, "Overture to Prometheus," was magnificently played by Mrs. C. P. Flick and Mrs. E. B. Ryan. Mrs. Flick's ability as a performer is recognized and her standing as a thorough musician is acknowledged by all. Mrs. E. B. Ryan had not been heard as an instrumental for some years and her exceptionally fine work was all the more a surprise, though as Miss Alma Conner she is remembered as one of Wheeling's best pianists. She entered the club as a vocalist, and the versatility proven in yesterday's work makes Mrs. Ryan an invaluable member.

Gumbert's Concert Waltz was well sung by the semi-chorus, after which Miss Blanche Laue made her debut as a pianist. She played a double number, Mendelssohn and Chominate, and her intelligent reading, as well as good tone production, deserved hearty praise.

Miss Cornelia Stifel, this season's vocal debutante, emphasized the good impression made by her first public appearance. Her song, "The Gypsies," is an artistic composition, excellently suited to her beautiful contralto voice. Mrs. Nellie Warren Hollaway interpreted Schumann, perhaps the daintiest of all the composers, in a manner that even excelled, if that were possible, her many brilliant renderings before Wheeling audiences. Too much praise cannot be awarded her. She has both technique and soul, and the line between amateur and professional work is very fine when Mrs. Hollaway's playing is discussed.

Miss Sue Caldwell, another Wheeling favorite, and deservedly so, sang very artistically De Koven's beautiful ballad, "In June." Miss Caldwell has a splendid soprano voice of remarkable power, and a sympathetic quality pervades it that is simply irresistible at all times.

A double number, "Moths" and "Hark! Hark! the Lark," sung by the choral club in a way that reflected the greatest credit upon itself, as well as its director, Mrs. Flora Williams, closed one of the most enjoyable musical afternoons ever given in this city.

The people should appreciate the work done for them in these bi-weekly matinees and encourage to the utmost limit the Woman's Club which, by the way, has honored itself recently by selecting Miss Isabel Houser as the regular accompanist for all vocal work of the club. No better selection could have been made, and congratulations are extended to Miss Houser and the Woman's Club by Musical Wheeling.

Millionaire Miner Dies.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—G. D. McLean, the millionaire miner of Grass Valley, Cal., died at the Lick house late last night, after a lingering illness. He was attended by his nephew, William Blakey, of Evansville, Ind., who will take the remains east for interment. Mr. McLean was interested in many mining enterprises and with Stephen W. Dornay owned the famous Mary-land mine noted as a very valuable property.

Havenmeyer's Condition.

GREENWICH, Conn., Nov. 5.—Henry O. Havenmeyer, who was operated upon for appendicitis in his country home at Balmers hill, near Stamford, last Monday, is still very low, although recovering slowly. At his house it was said he was progressing nicely, but no other information could be obtained.

Chief of Detective Bureau at Washington Cured by Dr. Greene's Nervura.

Inspector Hollinbergar, Highest Officer of Detective Bureau, Advises All Who Wish Health to Use Dr. Greene's Nervura.

Says He Has Used Dr. Greene's Nervura Blood and Nerve Remedy Both for Himself and Family with Excellent Results. He is Convinced that It is the Best of All Remedies and Will Surely Cure Who Use It.

INSPECTOR L. H. HOLLINBERGAR.

There are few better known officials than Lieutenant L. H. Hollinbergar, Inspector-in-Chief of the Detective Bureau at Washington, who has recently used Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy with such good effects in restoring his health. He has used it also in his family with equally beneficial effect, so that he knows positively whereof he speaks when he declares to the sick and suffering of the world that Dr. Greene's Nervura will cure all who use it.

Inspector-in-Chief Hollinbergar says: "I have used Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and so far as myself and family are concerned it has given entire satisfaction. I have known what it is to see people afflicted with nervousness, and can say that I am convinced that Dr. Greene's Nervura will cure such cases."
